MUST WAIT 3 MONTHS TO ELEGY DELEGATES

Jefferson City, Mo.—Three months will elapse before the Governor will be authorized to issue writs of election to the various Sheriffs of the state providing for the holding of an election to elect delegates to the constitutional convention from each of the state senatorial districts and fifteen delegates at large. The Governor may even wait for six months following the official announcement of the vote cast at the elections.

Each of the party committees in the state senatorial districts as constituted at the time of the election shall make provision for placing one candidate in nomination and the two receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared to have been elected. The candidates must appear upon their party ballots under such party designations as are permitted by law. Each voter will vote for but one candidate for delegate from his district.

The fifteen delegates at large are to be nominated by petitions filed with the Secretary of State containing the names of not less than 5 per cent of the total vote for Governor at the last preceding election. All of the names of the delegates at large will have to be printed on a single independent ballot.

AMERICA MUST REFORM WORLD

NATION WILL DO DUTY BY THE WORLD WAR VETERANS, DECLARES PRESIDENT.

GUARANTEES LASTING PEACE

U. S. Mission is to Establish Principles of Freedom and Justice Everywhere, Executive Tells the Heroes of World War.

Gorham, N. H.—A nation "committed to the task of reforming the world" was pictured by President Harding here as his ideal for America.

In a speech delivered in the course of a flying circuit of Northern New Hampshire towns, the President declared his conviction that America's mission not only was to banish warfare from the earth, but to establish everywhere right principles of freedom and justice.

In the same speech, which was addressed to a group of disabled world war veterans, Harding said the real reason behind the administration opposition to immediate action on soldier compensation was that it desired first of all to do its duty by those who came from the war impaired.

The President's appearance here was a part of a strenuous day's program which concluded his vacation visit to New Hampshire by giving him a state of almost every experience except rest and quiet. Leaving his vacation lodge near Lancaster, he motored 170 miles, delivering four speeches, held two public receptions, played 18 holes of golf and inspected the Gorham Tuberculosis Sanatorium for service men before he returned to Lancaster.

Other places in which the chief executive spoke were North Stratford, Colebrook and Berlin. In each speech he alluded to the nation's effort to receive a guarantee of lasting peace in the coming disarmament conference and pledged himself to put this test into the task.

The growing impression of American leadership was an outstanding element in every instance.

"I'd like ours to be a God-fearing people," he said here, "committed to the task of reforming the world and teaching mankind that it is not good to make warfare."

At Colebrook the President expressed his conception of American leadership in definite words, asserting that when he had brought the nations together at the disarmament conference he intended to show them what this country could do in the formulation of a peace program that all could accept.

In Colebrook, North Stratford and Berlin, Mr. Harding spoke to throngs that crowded about his automobile in a fashion recalling campaign days. The speech here, the only one of the four that had been prearranged, was delivered from the steps of the tubercular sanatorium, with the 50 patients of the institution and several hundred townspeople gathered before him.

WOULD CUT MILITARY EXPENSES $500,000,000

Senator Borah of Idaho Proposes a Reduction of the Army to 100,000 Men.

Washington.—A warning to Republican leaders against increasing taxes in revising the internal revenue bill was given in the Senate by Senator Borah (Rep.) of Idaho, who also proposed reductions in army and navy expenditures of nearly $500,000,000. The Republican membership in Congress, he said, would be reduced if the public "clamor" for tax relief was not met.

The Idaho senator introduced a resolution to reduce the army from 150,000 to 100,000 men, which, he said, would effect a saving of about $100,000,000, and asked the naval committee to report a resolution of Senator King (Dem.) of Utah, to stop work on six battleships. He explained that by stopping the work $240,000,000 could be saved. Another load of $1,000,000 a month could be saved, he continued, by withdrawing American troops from Germany in accordance with the "solemn pledge" of Republicans during the presidential campaign.

In urging that such steps be taken, Senator Borah argued that the army and navy were the only places where economies could be effected sufficient to meet the recommendations of Secretary Mellon on taxation to the House Ways and Means Committee.

"I know of no other way," he said, "we can cut expenses here and there, and dismiss a few employees, but that will not reduce expenses to the point that the Secretary of the Treasury says we must do."

WAS THE NEIGHBOR'S CHICKEN

Incident That Was Embarrassing, Although It Also Had an Amusing Side to It.

Some years ago, while living in the suburbs, we kept a few chickens; our neighbors also had chickens. After the garden season was over we let them run, as did our neighbors. In this way I suppose they got more or less mixed.

One day I decided to have a chicken for dinner, and not liking to kill it myself—my husband being away—I asked our neighbor if he would kill it for me. He kindly consented, so I brought out the particular fowl I had selected. He killed it, and I thanked him and proceeded to prepare it for dinner.

When dinner was over I went out to feed the chickens. What was my surprise to find among them the fowl I thought I had just eaten. It was my neighbor's chicken I had asked him to kill for me.

Of course, I lost no time in making apologies—and also insisted that they take ours instead, and they had a good laugh at my expense.

In the presence of a large number of distinguished guests both in political and educational circles, a new service center was opened recently in Stamboul, the old city of Constantinople, by the Y. W. It has been rented from a wealthy pasha to serve as a summer camp.

Crossed Ocean on Raft.

Jeremiah Mullane, last member of the trio that won fame in the summer of 1907 when they arrived in Southampton, England, after a 43-day trip from New York on a life raft equipped with a sail, died recently in Passaic, N. J., at the age of seventy-eight.

Capt. John Miles and George Miller, both of New York, who made the trip with Mullane, died several years ago. Their raft, the Nonpareil, was only 22 feet long and 12 feet wide, and their successful trip across the Atlantic was hailed throughout the world as a great feat and won favor for the men with Queen Victoria.

Ups and Downs.

Two men, strangers to each other, sat side by side in a suburban train. Finally, one turned to the other and became confidential.

"I," he said impressively, "am a starter of elevators in a city skyscraper. When I signal them to go up, they go up. And your line is—?"

"I," said the other, "am an undertaker. When I signal them to go down, they go down."—The American Legion Weekly.

RECORD OF PLEASANT HOURS

"Book of Night Life" Will Make Interesting Reading in the Years to Come.

The responsible portion of the old family album has been usurped in the homes of an increasing number of modern young persons by the "Book of Night Life." The new volume is almost as large as the old family album. It is supposed to record the amusement wanderings of the young couple who keep it. Every theatrical program is brought home, together with the ticket stubs, and pasted in it, and the date of the performance inscribed at the top of the page.

Below each playgoer writes his and her opinion of the play with such observation as, "mappy music, but not much plot;" "very sad, both of us cried;" "leading man awfully conceited," and other pungent remarks.

At the end of the season the "Book of Night Life" contains a complete record of the couple's evenings in search of amusement. Visitors find it extremely interesting.—Chicago Journal.

Much Newspaper Imported.

Of the newspaper paper used by American newspapers only one-third is made in the United States from wood grown in this country. The rest is either imported or made from imported wood or pulp. The United States has enormous forest resources in her northwest and in Alaska, if pulp mills were properly located to handle the raw material.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE LIFE

A Dangerous Period Through Which Every Woman Must Pass

Practical Suggestions Given by the Women Whose Letters Follow

to carry women safely through the Change of Life. She says:

"It is with pleasure that I write to you thanking you for what your wonderful medicine has done for me. I was passing through the Change of Life and had a displacement and weakness so that I could not stand on my feet and other annoying symptoms. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I tried it. It cured me and I am now doing my housework. Your medicine is certainly a woman's friend and you may use this testimonial as you choose."—Mrs. MARY LASTER, 608 Frank Street, Adrian, Mich.

"It is said that middle age is the most trying period in a woman's life, and owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand passes through this perfectly natural change without experiencing very annoying symptoms. These annoying spells, the dreadful hot flashes that send the blood rushing to the head until it seems as though it would burst, and the faint feeling that follows, as if the heart were going to stop, those sinking or dizzy spells are all symptoms of a nervous condition, and indicate the need for a special medicine.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a root and herb medicine especially adapted to act upon the feminine system. It acts in such a manner as to build up the weakened nervous system and enables a woman to pass this trying period with the least possible annoying symptoms.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative and often prevents serious troubles.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.
